Negro Pupils
Turned Back
By Ugly MobGroup Of Newsmen
Driven From Clay
During Demonstration

STURGIS, Ky., Sept. 7 (AP)—An ugly-tempered mob turned Negro students back from another school today as Kentucky's flareup of violence over school integration spread to a second community. More National Guardsmen were called up to meet the mounting crisis.

A mob in Clay, 11 miles from Sturgis, turned back a car bringing two elementary grade Negro students to the Clay school. Later, the same mob drove a group of newspapermen from the town and sent motorcycle riders along with their cars to see that they left.

Sturgis, where the racial trouble erupted Tuesday, was relatively quiet. National Guard tanks and troops were strategically located in the tense city.

Troops Use Bayonets

It was in Sturgis Thursday that troops with fixed bayonets drove a path through a howling, jeering mob for nine Negro students. The students failed to show up today but they said they planned to be there Monday.

An estimated 500 guardsmen from Bowling Green and Russellville area were being summoned to their units over the weekend. They will be taken to Camp Breckinridge, near Sturgis, to stand by for any trouble on Monday. The guard's headquarters and service unit in Louisville was being readied for immediate transfer to Sturgis.

Mrs. Françoise Armstrong, editor of the Henderson, Ky., Gleaner and Journal, was one of the first to reach Clay. She was carrying a camera but reported that a burly man approached her and said:

"Lady, you ain't going to take any pictures. We got women in this crowd who'll take it away from you and smash it. And as far as that little squirt with you—referring to a newsman with her—well, we'll beat him up."

Mrs. Armstrong called state police and asked for protection. She quoted Don Sturgill, acting commissioner of public safety, as saying, "I'll give you all the protection I can with three men which isn't very many against a crowd of 150."

Said To Be Armed
Spokesmen for the crowd—many of them women—said they were armed but none of the newsmen entering the small community saw weapons of any type among the stern-faced group.

Gov. A. B. Chandler said he was prepared to state Sturgis under martial law if conditions warranted. In Louisville for the opening of the state fair, the governor told a radio interviewer, "If they—the mob—think they can wait us out, they're wrong."

The Clay mob blocked off the street leading to the school situated at the top of a small hill. They sent a group of 30 men to the bottom of the hill to tell newsmen:

"If you try to get up that hill to see what is going on you may not get back."

Supreme Court
Justice Retires

Sherman Minton Plagued By Illness

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Justice Sherman Minton, plagued by pernicious anemia and a failing memory, announced today he was retiring from the Supreme Court Oct. 15.

He told newsmen he no longer feels able "to do the kind of work this position demands."

Minton, almost 66, has been a member of the high court since 1949 and has been identified with what has come to be known as the court's five-man conservative bloc.

His retirement will give President Eisenhower the opportunity to make his third appointment to the supreme tribunal. There was immediate speculation about the nomination.

Names Are Mentioned

The names of Atty. Gen. Brownell and former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York were first mentioned as possibilities, but informed government sources indicated there was doubt that either would get the President's nod. A third name mentioned was that of Stanley N. Barnes, former chief of the Antitrust Division of the Justice Department and now a judge on the U. S. Circuit Court bench in San Francisco.

Other names will be heard before Minton steps down.

In January 1955, the President nominated Justice John M. Harlan and in September 1953, he named Chief Justice Earl Warren. Another Republican serving in the Supreme Court, Justice Burton, was nominated by President Truman.

Truman Appointee

Minton was a Truman appointee, as was Justice Clark. Four of President Roosevelt's appointees remain: Justices Black, Reed, Frankfurter and Douglas. Black, Reed and Frankfurter, all over 70, could retire now and get full pay of $35,000 a year, as Minton will.

Minton announced his retirement at the Supreme Court Building after sending a letter to Eisenhower. Later the justice met newsmen in his office.

"I have pernicious anemia and there is no cure for it," he said. "There are treatments, but no real cure. It causes a weakening and a circulatory condition in my legs. It speeds up senility. There are times when I might fall if I had no cane handy."

The jurist also complained of loss of memory, adding — "And that's something you need in this business."

Minton pointed out he was retiring and not resigning. This means that he may take special assignments to sit on U. S. circuit and district courts if needed. But he cannot practice law under his retired status.

Asked if he had any idea who might succeed him, Minton smiled and replied:

"No. There will be more interest in who will succeed me than in my passing. I'm an echo."

Chief Justice Warren, back in his office after a trip to India, said the retirement was "a matter of sincere regret to me."

Johnson And Wang

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 7 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan held the 57th meeting in their 13-month-old secret negotiations here today and agreed to meet again Sept. 30.

The two ambassadors are discussing American civilians imprisoned in China and a proposal for a Red Chinese renunciation of force against Formosa.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Navy announced late today that one of its research balloons had reached an altitude of 129,000 feet "a new world record," and was still going up.

Bing Crosby Denies Rumor
He Will Marry Kathy Grant

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7 (AP)—Hollywood buzzed today with the rumor—latest in a long series—that Bing Crosby and his best girl, actress Kathy Grant, would be married this weekend.

But the 52-year-old Bing reiterated there's nothing to it.

The latest rumor, printed in a trade paper column, said the two would be married at Hayden Lake, Idaho—the Crosby summer home.

But Bing told a reporter by phone from there:

"There is nothing to it. Stories like that are always coming out of Hollywood. I'm not planning on getting married to Miss Grant or anybody else. Also, I'm getting fed up with the rumor stories."

Then he added:

"I don't know where Kathryn is."

However, a later call to Bing's

Hint On Ruotolo
Case Solution

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 7 (AP)—Top investigators broke up a long huddle in the tragic Ruotolo baby case today without giving the slightest hint of how close they were to a solution.

"The investigation is continuing," is all State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman would say after a three-hour conference in the New Haven County courthouse.

His office became the center of operations with the discovery of the body of 6-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo yesterday near a culvert in Lake Whitney. She had been stuffed in a plastic bag weighted with a rock.

The lake is about four miles from here and about one mile from the big Hamden department store where Cynthia's carriage was parked when she disappeared Saturday.

The baby's mother, 33-year-old Eleanor, told police she had left Cynthia there while she shopped in the store with a neighbor.

If investigators had any suspects in mind, they weren't saying so.

"Anybody connected with the case is a suspect," said Police Chief Harry H. Barrows of Hamden as he left Ullman's office.

Present at the conference also were state police Capt. Victor Clarke and New Haven County Coroner James J. Corrigan.

The FBI officially stepped out of the case late last night. It did so, it explained, because of the absence of any apparent interstate angles.

One of Corrigan's first acts after the conference was to release Cynthia's body so her parents could proceed with the funeral arrangements.

The conference in Ullman's office, said Corrigan, "simply means the investigation is going forward."

Nixon Final
Services Held

WHITTIER, Calif., Sept. 7 (AP)—A little Quaker church was filled to capacity, and a cross of white carnations from President Eisenhower dominated floral tributes, as final rites were held here today for Frank A. Nixon, father of the nation's vice president.

Nixon, a 77-year-old retired grocer, died Tuesday night.

Vice President Richard Nixon and his wife, Pat, sat with dozens of members of the family at the funeral. Others attending were mostly old friends and townspeople. But the mourners also included James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor; Actor George Murphy, a prominent Republican party worker; and Rep. Glennard Lipscomb.

An estimated 500 crowded into the East Whittier Friends church for the service. About 200 of them sat in the basement and heard the services by loudspeaker.

The pulpit and side aisles were banked with floral tributes.

Two Quaker ministers, former pastors of Frank Nixon, delivered eulogies to the elder Nixon, who was born Dec. 3, 1878, in Vinton County, Ohio.

Nobody was hurt. No property damage was reported.

The "shakes" were felt throughout the mountain section of Western North Carolina, in East Tennessee and in Southeastern Kentucky.

Knoxville, Tenn., reported that downtown buildings and dwellings throughout the city were shaken. Windows and chinaware rattled. A woman in a Knoxville suburb said the first tremor knocked her off her feet. Many persons raced into Knoxville streets when buildings and offices began shaking.

Minor Quakes
Hit Appalachian Mountain Area

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 7 (AP)—Two minor earthquakes, startling but harmless, sent quivers through the Southern Appalachian Mountains region today.

The first was recorded at 8:40:17 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time), the other 13 minutes later. The first was of about five seconds' duration, the second of briefer time.

Nobody was hurt. No property damage was reported.

Knoxville, Tenn., reported that downtown buildings and dwellings throughout the city were shaken. Windows and chinaware rattled. A woman in a Knoxville suburb said the first tremor knocked her off her feet. Many persons raced into Knoxville streets when buildings and offices began shaking.

The latest rumor on the marriage stemmed apparently from a call Bing made personally to executives at Columbia Studios where Miss Grant is under contract. She was due there Monday to make a television film. Bing asked if she could get out of the film. The request was granted.

Crosby has gone with no other girl but Kathy in the last two years. Most everybody in Hollywood expects her to be the girl to grab off the town's wealthiest and most eligible unmarried man. Maybe not this weekend but some weekend.

Bing's wife, the former Dixie Lee, died in 1952.

POW Conviction
Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Military Appeals upheld today the conviction of Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Tex., on charges of helping the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea.

Batchelor, 25-year-old former infantry corporal, was convicted by an Army court-martial in 1954. He is serving a 20-year prison term.

He also was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay and allowances.

The appeals court is the last resort in military cases.

Batchelor's lawyer, Joel W. Westbrook, said in San Antonio, Tex., that the court did not grant review of what he called the two most important issues of the case — "brainwashing and due process of law."

"I shall seek a hearing on these matters and possibly others in the future," Westbrook said. He added he believes Batchelor is "morally innocent" and "I believe justice will confirm his legal innocence."

The three-judge court's decision was unanimous. A majority opinion said the evidence against Batchelor was "overwhelming" and added:

"At best, he was a victim of his own selfish desire to improve his interment at the expense of other servicemen; at worst, he was a soldier who betrayed his cause."

Batchelor, a prisoner of the Chinese Reds from Nov. 2, 1950, to Sept. 25, 1953, was one of 23

Adlai Plans
More Safaris
In California

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson is figuring on one and perhaps two more political safaris to California because his advisers believe that if he can carry that pivotal state he can win the election.

As one of the Democratic presidential nominee's top consultants put it: "If we can take California, we're in. I think we can."

The theory is that if Stevenson has enough power to carry the Golden Bear state, after losing it by 700,000 votes in 1951, he has enough to sweep up sufficient other states to topple President Eisenhower in November.

The importance Stevenson headquarters attaches to California was underscored by the fact that the nominee took the better part of three days this week just for an aerial expedition to Los Angeles and San Francisco. He flew back to Chicago last night.

This was a let-up day for the Stevenson campaign — a day for working on speeches but not delivering any. Tomorrow the candidate will be on his way again, to Springfield, Ill., the Ohio Democratic convention at Columbus, and then to New York.

Stevenson did get out a statement today jumping on the Eisenhower administration for what he called failure to meet the school crisis. The Democratic party, he said, has a good program for dealing with such things as the shortage of schools and teachers.

He said more children than ever are packed into crowded classrooms or half-time ones, a 500,000 shortage of classrooms is the biggest yet, the teacher shortage probably is even more serious than the classroom shortage, and "one child in five is going to school in a fire trap."

The Democratic party platform calls for federal financial aid in building schools and for the training of more teachers, particularly in the scientific and technical fields.

Explosion Wrecks
New Addition
To Schoolhouse

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Sept. 7 (AP)—An explosion wrecked a brand new addition to a school building at nearby Donnellsville today only an hour after 400 pupils left classes.

One teacher was pinned in the rubble and injured. She was believed the only person in the building at the time.

Cause of the blast — which stopped a school clock at 4:47 p. m. EST — was not immediately known.

But the school architect, Ralph Harmon, who arrived at the scene shortly afterwards, said he smelled "an accumulation of gases over a wide area in the building and the blast was centered around the kitchen."

The one-story brick school building was built this summer at a cost of $190,000, Harmon said. It opened for classes three days ago.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP)—Edward A. Epping, chief aide to ex-state Auditor Orville E. Hodge, was sentenced today to four to five years in state prison on charges he conspired with Hodge to steal more than $637,000 in state funds.

Epping, who will be 38 Saturday, pleaded guilty to 33 counts of conspiring to obtain money from the state. Circuit Judge Dewitt Crow of Sangamon County set the sentence as four to five years on each count. The sentences will run concurrently.

George Carberry, special assistant to the attorney general, said Peiping will be eligible for parole in 38 months.

Epping's plea leaves 46 other state charges of forgery, embezzlement and confidence game still pending. Asst. State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman said these charges will be prosecuted in the course of the court's ordinary business.

Ackerman recommended the sentence which Judge Crow imposed.

Epping was remanded to the custody of the Sangamon County sheriff with the court's suggestion that he be taken Monday to U. S. District Court in Chicago. He previously drew a five-year federal sentence on charges growing out of the 1½-million-dollar state swindle.

Carberry said he received assurance that U. S. Dist. Judge John P. Barnes will permit Epping to serve his federal sentence concurrently with his state term in the state penitentiary.

FORT RILEY, Kas., Sept. 7 (INS)—An Army sergeant, equipped with a purported 62-year-old map was told there is still a ranch by that name at that location, a number of miles from a fairly large town, also referred to on the map. I began making plans as soon as I was assigned to Fort Riley."

Dated March 18, 1894, the map gives exact footage from four permanent landmarks on the ranch and an encircled "X" with the word, "gold," printed underneath, marks the treasure site.

McNeilly will be accompanied on the treasure hunt by his wife, Mary, and by M/Sgt. Robert J. Heath of Shreveport, La., and his wife, Elizabeth.

Suez Confab
With Nasser
Comes To EndSpokesman Reveals
Mission To Leave
Egypt For London

CAIRO, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Menzies Mission talks with President Nasser on the Suez Canal have come to a complete end, a mission spokesman said tonight.

He said the mission will say goodbye to Nasser tomorrow and probably return to London Sunday.

The spokesman's statement confirmed what had been reported in Cairo and London earlier—that the Menzies mission had failed to find even a starting point for negotiating peaceful settlement of the Suez Canal crisis.

Egyptian press and leaders were contending again and again that only positive and quick action by the United States now could restrain Britain and France from using force. None of such speculation came through official channels, however.

Want U. S. To Act
Egyptians feel that unless the United States acts, Britain and France need only one precipitating incident as an excuse to invade Egypt.

The Menzies mission is a five-nation group headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies. It arrived in Cairo last Sunday to present to Nasser a formula agreed to by 18 countries in London for international operation of the canal.

Egypt nationalized the canal on July 26.

Countries represented on the Menzies group are Australia, the United States, Ethiopia, Iran and Sweden.

A source close to the Egyptian government said last night Menzies had reported to British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd that no agreement had been reached with Nasser.

This informant said that the Menzies mission lacked sufficient power to go beyond the 18-nation plan and negotiate a compromise with Nasser.

The informant added that the views of Nasser and the mission "run in parallel channels with no possibility of being reconciled." He declared that only U. S. intervention could prevent the use of force by Britain and France.

Diplomats Confer
In Washington, British and French diplomats conferred today with Secretary of State Dulles on what could be done to end the Suez crisis.

In Moscow, Russian newspapers reported that Russian ship pilots from Archangel, Vladivostok, Leningrad, and Riga have volunteered to work on the Suez Canal under the Egyptian government.

Belgrade radio said about 10 Yugoslav pilots of the Adriatic port of Rijeka also had accepted Egyptian offers to work for the nationalized Suez Canal.

Nasser apparently is planning a conference for later this month with two other important Asian leaders—Prime Minister Nehru of India and King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Oil Lawyers Plead Innocent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Two oil company lawyers pleaded innocent today to a federal charge that they tried "unlawfully" to influence the vote of Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) by offering him a $25,000 campaign contribution.

Chief Judge Bolitha Laws heard the pleas of the defendants, John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb., and Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex., and set Nov. 19 as the date for their trial in U. S. District Court here.

Patman and Neff, who were released under $500 bond each, also pleaded innocent to charges that they conspired with the Superior Oil Co. of California to violate federal lobbying laws.

Superior Oil, a codefendant in the conspiracy charge, also pleaded innocent through its counsel Roger Robb of Washington.

Indictments returned by a grand jury July 24 accused Neff and Patman, as Superior Oil employees of illegally attempting to influence action on the natural gas bill which Congress subsequently passed and President Eisenhower vetoed.

A grand jury investigation had been ordered after Case told the Senate he had rejected a $25,000 campaign contribution offered him while the bill was before the Senate.

Court Turns Down Segregation Suit

ANNAPOLIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Maryland Petition Committee and a group of eight parents today lost the first round of a legal fight to force continued segregation in Anne Arundel County schools.

Circuit Judge Benjamin Michaelson in effect dismissed their suit to compel the Board of Education to maintain segregation, and Atty. George Washington Williams said he would appeal the case.

Truman Accuses Ike Of Shirking Responsibility

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Harry S. Truman accused President Eisenhower by plain implication tonight of shirking the responsibilities of his office, and perhaps endangering national welfare, for the sake of maintaining personal popularity.

The former president did not mention Eisenhower by name in his address, which was billed in advance as a "nonpolitical" talk to the American Political Science Assn.

Truman said, however, that the Republican administration seems to have moved the government from Washington to the advertising agencies of New York's Madison Avenue. And he said it has put forward a new doctrine that the President's aides, and not the chief executive himself, are responsible for White House actions.

Truman said in his prepared address that the real job of a leader is to lead and "it is more important to promote the welfare of the country than it is to preserve one's personal popularity by avoiding a controversy."

Truman then assailed the administration on both its foreign and domestic policies.

He said "the most dreadful consequences" of "the Madison Avenue technique" has come in foreign affairs, and he described Eisenhower's meeting with the leaders of Soviet Russia at Geneva last year as the worst example of a "selling campaign."

"Peace must be built upon a firm foundation," Truman said. "He who undermines and destroys the foundation for the sake of temporarily preventing outbreaks on the surface does us no service whatever."

"I fear that there is an ominous parallel between what is transpiring now and the events of the 1920's, when the world drifted on and allowed the forces to grow and the pressures to be built up which eventually resulted in World War II."

Hoffman Gets 7-Year Sentence

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wesley A. Hoffman, 44, was called a "fraud" today by Judge Dealey K. Nice and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.

Hoffman was convicted of a series of bogus-check and fraud charges.

Prosecutors said Hoffman is a floater who has been convicted of similar charges in several states stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. They said he originally hailed from Minnesota.

In one case, Hoffman was convicted of posing as a newly employed buyer for a downtown department store and persuading the cashier to cash a $160 check which had been "o.k.'d" with a red pencil.

Baltimore Grand Jury Asks Revision Of Motor Laws

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Complete revision of Maryland's automobile laws and motor vehicle administration was urged today by the retiring Baltimore Grand Jury.

The report submitted to Judge Joseph L. Carter said the Jury had observed "so many weaknesses in our automobile regulations that a separate committee was assigned to make a study."

A dozen recommendations were made by the jury committee, including these:

1. Annual inspections of vehicles and exclusion of all unsafe cars from the highways.

2. Re-examination of operators every two years. (Maryland now issues a driver's license good for life.)

3. Operators' fees and inspection fees high enough to defray all administrative costs.

4. State guarantees as to insurance protection and use of windshield stickers to indicate operating safety and financial stability as to every car allowed on the road.

The Grand Jury also recommended decentralization of the motor vehicle administration. It suggested at least 10 separate centers in different parts of the state with each equipped to handle licensing, policing, magistrate's hearings, imprisonment and vehicle impounding.

More emphasis on jail sentences instead of fines also was recommended, along with much closer cooperation between criminal courts and traffic courts.

In urging stiffer sentences, the grand jury committee said:

"The self-appraised 'high-type citizen' who operates a motor vehicle while dangerously under the influence of alcohol, or who operates at dangerous speed, should be made to pay for such 'liberty' by being definitely deprived of his personal liberty (in other words he should be put in jail). This, of course," the report added, "also applies to ordinary citizens claiming no preference."

Other recommendations included:

Definite identification of motor vehicle operators including fingerprinting, with extra fees in case constitutional privileges permit anyone to escape that identifying step.

Heavy penalties and jail sentences for use of vehicles by anyone without licenses or with improper licenses.

Full tests and payment of full fees by all license applicants before they are permitted behind the wheel as learners.

Probationary licenses for anyone under 18, with probation periods extended until age 21 in case of any violation. Substantial bond was also proposed for such probationers.

Severely increasing penalties by mandatory provisions of law in case of repeated motor violations.

4,325 Persons Visit State House

ANNAPOLIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—A total of 4,325 people from 40 states and 16 foreign countries visited Maryland's historic state house during August, the Department of Information announced today.

The figure topped that for all previous Augusts and brought the total for the first eight months of this year to 48,622 compared to 43,142 for the same period last year.

Earle R. Poorbaugh, department director, said Ft. McHenry drew 80,707 visitors during August compared to 76,761 for the same month last year but is still running behind 1955 in overall attendance.

In the first eight months last year, 425,660 persons visited the birthplace of the Star Spangled Banner compared to 390,958 this year. Poorbaugh said poor weather the first three months this year kept attendance down but that since then it has increased over similar months for 1955.

Supporters Call For Fund Plan

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 7 (AP)—Strong supporters of absolute school segregation in Virginia today called for enactment of Gov. Thomas B. Stanley's fund cut-off plan, supplemented imperfections existed in all the plans proposed to the General Assembly for coping with the Supreme Court's mandate for desegregation and urged that refinements be made in the Stanley program.

He saw the need, for example, "to protect the local school officials from court action, and to provide administrative remedies in the state courts" such as is contemplated in a supplemental measure sponsored in the House of Delegates by 43 delegates, seven shy of the required majority.

Byrd wound up rebuttal against opponents of the governor's proposal to withhold State school funds from integrated schools as the education and money committees of the House and Senate concluded a four-day public hearing. Speakers were heard for and against the governor's plan, the original Gray Commission program and a plan advocated by Sen. E. O. McCue of Charlottesville.

Hearings on other school proposals, including the bills of Sens. Ted Dalton and Armistead L. Boothe for pupil assignment and teacher placement, will begin Monday at 2 p.m. (EST).

Broker Slashed By Assailant

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A 31-year-old investment broker was mysteriously slashed last night outside a seafood restaurant where he and three young women had dined, police reported today.

The broker was identified as Alfred William Perkins of Alexandria, Va. Police said he refused to tell them what happened.

Police said they were given this account:

Perkins dined in the restaurant with three women, one of whom identified Perkins as her investment broker. The women gave their names as Beverly C. Mauro, 27, North Forestville, Md.; Helen L. Talty, 24, North Forestville, Md.; and Francis Sonnemann, 29, Arlington, Va.

At about 11 p.m. Perkins paid the check and left. The three women remained in the restaurant. Perkins' car was parked in the rear. Ten minutes later Perkins returned. He was bleeding profusely.

Police said blood was found in the front seat of another car parked behind the restaurant and that a trail of blood led from the car to the restaurant.

Police said they were certain that robbery was not involved.

Water Rates Slashed By Washington Co.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7 (AP)—A cut in water rates was ordered today for some 2,900 Washington County customers who also will be getting refunds.

The Public Service Commission cut the base rate charged county customers by the Hagerstown Water Co. from 60 to 43 cents. This applies to the first 1,000 gallons. It ordered similar cuts for larger purchases of water.

The 60 cents rate was set last Nov. 1. Refunds will be made under a plan "agreeable to the commission." It could be in cash or credit.

Affected are 2,942 customers in the county around Hagerstown plus three wholesale customers: Williamsport, Smithsburg and Funkstown.

Soviet Refuses German Appeal For Unification

BONN, Sept. 7 (AP)—West Germany made a direct appeal to the Soviet Union today to join the West in a new campaign to reunite this divided country. The Soviets let it be known quickly they weren't buying the new proposal.

A long-expected note by Konrad Adenauer's government asked Russia to negotiate with the Western Powers in an effort to break the stalemate in reunification efforts.

Identical notes were sent to Washington, London, Paris and Moscow. An additional five-page memorandum went to the Russians outlining a plan for a demilitarized buffer zone along the Oder-Neisse line as proposed by British Prime Minister Eden at the 1955 Geneva summit conference.

Accepting the note from the West German ambassador in Moscow, Andrei A. Gromyko reportedly said "the remilitarization and suppression of freedom and rights" in West Germany has made reunification impossible at this time.

The Soviet Deputy foreign minister clearly meant recent action by West Germany's constitutional court declaring the Communist party illegal in his reference to suppression of rights.

Russia showed no signs of backing away from its position that German reunification can be achieved only through negotiations between the Bonn Republic and Communist East Germany. The Adenauer government steadfastly has refused to recognize the East German government.

Reaction to the Soviet position was slow. Members of both Adenauer's ruling coalition and the opposition parties declined comment until they had studied the Soviet position.

However, the opposition Socialists and Free Democrats complained that Adenauer's notes contained nothing that had not been rejected previously by Moscow.

But the Socialists and Free Democrats applauded the direct appeal to the Russians, something which they long have proposed.

The British Foreign Office issued a statement saying: "The British government have repeatedly expressed their view that there can be no real peace and security in Europe while the unjust and unnatural division of Germany continues and the Soviet government can make no better contribution to a genuine international detente, which they have so often described as the supreme aim of their policy, than by agreeing to remove this main cause of tension in Europe."

Adenauer's notes called for no new Big Four summit conference. Instead they proposed a series of secret meetings among diplomats operating through regular diplomatic channels.

75th Annual Timonium Fair Comes To End

TIMONIUM, Md., Sept. 7 (AP)—The farm and homemaking portion of the 75th Maryland State Fair came to an end today, but the horse racing and entertainment had a few more days to run.

Loading of the prize livestock and removal of canned goods, farm produce and the like began at the end of the day.

The midway will be open for the final time tomorrow and the last presentation of the grandstand show will be held tomorrow night. The horse racing program will be held Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. There also will be a horse show Monday and Tuesday.

This was municipality day at the diamond jubilee fair. Guests included Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore, Mayor B. Herndon Adkins of Snow Hill, Mayor Wilbur N. Herstein of Glen Echo, and Mayor Clifford Armhold of Forest Heights.

Armhold is president of the Maryland Municipal League. The group was honored at a luncheon. Today's attendance was 13,390, exactly 80 more than for the same day of the 1955 fair.

Through the first 10 days, attendance totaled 253,069 compared with 240,365 for the same period of last year.

In a sidelight to the fair, General Manager John M. Heil said the cases against three operators of midway concessions were disposed of in police court at Towson today.

The three were arrested yesterday by county police officers led by State's Atty. John E. Raine Jr. Two of the concessionaires were accused of operating gambling devices and the third with failing to have a trader's license.

Heil said the county declined to prosecute the cases against the first two. The third was fined $50 and costs for not having a license.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver Jr., resigned today as chairman of the board of the National Broadcasting Co., the radio-television subsidiary of the Radio Corp. of America.

The move was announced by Robert W. Sarnoff, president of NBC and son of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA chairman of the board. Young Sarnoff said Weaver submitted his resignation, effective today, at the NBC directors meeting.

Weaver had been chairman of the board since December 1955, when he was promoted from the post of president. He was made president in December 1953, and had been with NBC since 1949.

Weaver was succeeded as president last year by young Sarnoff, who had been executive vice president.

Important Contrast

Yours always will be subtle coloring — if it's medium, with little contrast between almost olive skin, light blue, gray, or hazel eyes and brown hair of a middling shade. Experts at the Powers school wouldn't for a minute suggest your trying to copy vividness, not as long as we shy away from make-up and recommend make-down. But cosmetic emphasis is especially important for you. You should do everything you can to bring contrast to your features to make your face more beautiful and expressive, as long as the effect avoids the unnatural.

A well-chosen foundation with more color to it than your skin has will bring to it a glow, and you may need a suggestion of

It's fun to mix a lot of things and wonder how they'll "turn out." It's fun until you try to eat your own "exter-special" muffins. Then you wish you had used Mommy's old-fashioned recipe.

Thousands of parents are sharing today the disillusionment that is in store for our little cook—but on a more bitter scale. As juvenile offenders are herded into our police stations, courts and reformatories, heart-broken parents watch and wonder. What did they do wrong? Why didn't Johnny turn out to be a boy they could be proud of?

When you try to answer those questions you can't help but recall the old-fashioned recipe for raising children. It calls for generous portions of prayer, family worship, Church attendance. But more than eight million children are growing up today without ANY religious training.

When the church bells ring on Sunday morning, remember; the future of our nation, the character of our children, is at stake.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP) — Thirteen Boy Scouts — comprising the entire membership of one patrol — were elevated to the rank of Eagle Scout tonight in what local scouting officials said may be a national record.

The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 18, are members of Post B Explorer Scout Patrol of Troop 131, sponsored by the Somerset Lions Club.

John Minnick, Lions Club representative to the troop, said it apparently was the first time the entire membership of a patrol attained Eagle rank simultaneously.

The adult leader of the Post B patrol is Capt. Fred Pyle of the Somerset Police Dept.

Barton Groups Petitioning For Bridge Opening

BARTON — A petition is being prepared by which the Mayor and Council of Barton, the Barton American Legion Post 189, and Barton Hose Company 1 will request the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to open the Flat Rock Bridge, located about three-eighths of a mile south of the town.

The petition is required under the public code in such cases. The county acquired the bridge and approaches from the state in an exchange of certain road mileage and bridges some time ago. The county will ask bids on the project in the near future.

The Barton groups are acting as community organizations interested in the welfare of the section involved. Opening of the bridge will provide an easier access to the section by residents living there, provide better fire protection and also eliminate a circuitous route which must be followed at present.

It was 18 years ago that the Flat Rock Bridge was closed as a result of relocation of State Route 36, and a railroad crossing elimination project.

Well-Kept Secrets Being Unlocked

Readers of Thor Heyerdahl's "Kon-Tiki" will recall he and his friends drifted on a balsa raft from Peru westward to some of the Pacific islands. He wanted to prove his theory that some of the Polynesians, at least, could have come from South America originally — and not from the central or western Pacific as had been theorized.

Ocean currents carried him and his party just about where he predicted they would.

Now Heyerdahl is back home in Norway from an expedition by ship to Easter Island, that speck under the Chilean flag 2,000 miles from the mainland. He says he is going to write another book, to prove that not only the culture of the ancient Easter Islanders but the design of their great stone images came from Peru.

These images are very much like the handiwork of the ancient Incas, he reports, even to the fine cutting and joining of stones in the masonry of the foundation platforms.

It's certain that this reputable archeologist and anthropologist will offer evidence to back his theory. He has quantities of photographs and 57,000 feet of movie film, for example. Some of his film depicts natives showing his party their inherited "secrets" — how the huge statues could actually be moved on skids, with ropes, from the quarry.

He is a debunker only in demolishing what was never more than supposition—that the islanders dreamed up the images all by themselves, that no one today would be able to figure out how they were moved up and out of the quarry and erected on hillsides.

Perhaps the ancients had a different way of doing it, but it couldn't have been so very different with only Stone Age tools used by islanders then and now. Heyerdahl patiently gained the confidence of the natives until they started moving statues at his beck and call, and opening caves full of objects that no modern man had seen.

Archeology, to be successful, sometimes depends on more than simple digging in the ground. Heyerdahl's party proved again that it sometimes requires a patient study of human nature to unlock some of the best-kept secrets of mankind.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Private Ownership

Dr. Mohamed Abu Nossair, Egyptian minister of commerce, has laid down the law:

"It is an accepted principle that public utilities are either directly administered by the state or indirectly by way of a concession and that it is always the right of the state to retake the concession because it is a grant from it whether this is specifically mentioned in the concession or not. It is the public interest which determines the way the state chooses to realize the maximum measure of public interest. For the relationship between he who grants the concession and he who utilizes it are based on the principles of the administrative law which is a branch of the general law."

No such principle has ever been accepted except in the Communist countries where private property is only recognized as a benefaction from the government and is of such a limited character that it plays a small part in the total economy of the nation. It is a boon rather than a right. The word, concession, as Dr. Nossair employs it, is hardly understandable in the Western world where public utilities are usually operated by private companies which may receive certain benefits from the state, as, for instance, a railroad gets a right of way. But it is not regarded as within the authority of the state to confiscate private property except by due process of the law, whereupon the occupation is not confiscation but the end result of a juridical process. Certainly whimsical and unilateral confiscation is intolerable in a free society.

But then, Egypt is not a free society. It is as much a dictatorship as Hitler or Stalin produced but each dictatorship as each free society operates differently according to the traditions of the people.

After all, Egypt has not been an independent country for long and would not have been independent at all if the Allies, including Nasser's enemy, the British, had not defeated the Turks in World War I. From 1517 until 1914, the Turks held Egypt as a conquered province.

The British established a protectorate over Egypt in 1914 with the object of preventing a German conquest. This protectorate was terminated in 1922. As a matter of historic fact, all the Arab countries which are now throwing their weight about were Turkish provinces. It is true that some of the Arabs assisted General Allenby in his war on the Turks and in the achievement of the Allied victory, but that assistance was amply compensated for not only by independence but also by economic assistance of the greatest value in the development of their countries. And in that economic development, the United States played a great role.

To a dictator like Nasser, seeking to build an empire, history is not important. He succeeded in abolishing the monarchy; he got rid of his predecessor, Naguib, who established the Egyptian Republic; he seized power by a coup d'etat, and he managed to place himself at the head of the Arab powers. He has now seized the Suez Canal Company and he is on his way. Maybe this time, he will have to back down somewhat but if he is permitted to continue he will as surely involve the world in war as Hitler did in World War II because his ambitions are personal and limitless.

One would imagine that after the experience with Mussolini and Hitler, the world would have recognized Nasser for what he is, but the West particularly is so anxious for peace that it risks the dangers of another insatiable dictator. After all, the British gave Hitler time after Munich. Nasser is an Arabic imitator of Hitler and pursues the pattern of his prototype.

The question may be asked: What can be done short of war? Maybe in this year 1956 there is no answer to that question. And if there is no answer, Nasser has chosen a good year in which to pursue his course. The quick British and French response and the landing of troops at Cyprus, only 250 miles from Cairo, is a good sign, but the United States does not want to risk too much, first because it is a presidential election year and secondly because our economic interests in the Arabic world are great—but if Dr. Nossair's law stands, what are those interests really worth? They are already in danger in at least nine Arab countries.

Money To Burn

Survey Of Issues Suggested For Election Polling

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Everybody seems to be taking polls nowadays, including the university psychologist who is asking 150 people what they dislike about a candidate and plans to offer the result as a sample of public opinion.

The latest polls to get into the news were taken in and around Minneapolis. A newspaper poll showed Eisenhower and Stevenson splitting about evenly in Minnesota, but now the results of secret balloting behind the canopy of a voting machine at the Minnesota State Fair a few days before and on Labor Day have been disclosed. There were two machines at the fair, and the League of Women Voters had representatives present to teach the visitors how to use the machines and also to monitor the operation. About 19,000 persons voted in the machine booths, with the curtain drawn automatically. This is how it came out on the presidential voting:

Almost Two To One

For Eisenhower 12,556
For Stevenson 6,562

On the gubernatorial race, Nelson, the Republican got 11,320, and Freeman, the Democrat, 6,590.

This is so sharply different from the newspaper poll which showed Stevenson and Eisenhower running evenly that it probably will occasion a good deal of comment on the value of polls.

Most people do not realize that there never has been a comprehensive state-by-state poll taken in a presidential election. The reason is that it costs too much. Yet every one who knows that a few votes in one state can tip the scales and give the entire electoral vote of that state to one candidate or the other can appreciate how little value sectional or regional percentages are in a close election.

There is some criticism today of polls on the ground that they take too small a sample or else that they admit a possible margin of error, which, of course, upsets all pre-election surveys if there is a close contest.

Survey of Issues Difficult

More perhaps is to be learned in advance of election day about the thinking of the electorate if the issues themselves are surveyed. But even these are difficult to express in question form. Thus, there is a lot of conversation nowadays about the "peace" issue or the "prosperity" issue. Some political neophytes are still talking about the word "peace" as if this by itself epitomizes the problem in the mind of the voters. Some of the Democratic spokesmen, including Messrs. Stevenson and Truman, are asking if there is really "peace" at present—as if the issue could be simplified that way.

The "peace" issue covers a lot of things, and among the highbrow debaters it is called "foreign policy." But voters who do not keep too closely informed about current affairs wouldn't know what you meant if you asked whether they approved of the administration's "foreign policy." If, on the other hand, you asked a housewife whether she wanted her boy drafted and sent to war, you would get a direct answer and a complete understanding of what is really meant by the "peace" issue. Mr. Stevenson is beginning to catch on to the importance of dissecting the "peace" issue. He made a speech this week promising to end the draft "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety." To the average voter it's a question of whether the boy is going to be drafted for military service and whether a war is coming.

Careful Selection of Words

The same careful selection of words is necessary in canvassing sentiment on the "prosperity" issue. Many voters don't know exactly what is meant by the word "prosperity." But they do know what is meant when you ask them if "times are good" and if they are getting good wages.

For purposes of condensation, such slogans as "peace and prosperity" are used by the politicians and their speech writers, but they will discover that these same slogans have to be explained. The crux of the present campaign for the Republicans is how to remind the voters generally of their satisfactory situation in a material sense and how to persuade them that it's risky to change, while the Democrats have to argue that times are likely to be better if they get in. The paramount problem is related to the wage envelope of the individual and keeping the sons and husbands out of war.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

How much does the average barber earn daily? Is he better off financially than the tinsmiths of yesterday? Nearly 100 years ago, in 1859, John Henry Vessey, an Englishman, toured the United States. In New York he stopped at the St. Nicholas Hotel which he said was the most remarkable hostelry he had ever seen. It accommodated 1,000 guests. Among other things Mr. Vessey made a note of was that the St. Nicholas had a magnificent barber shop, with a staff of eight barbers who were paid six dollars a day. The dollar then had at least four times its present buying power and there was no income tax. Se the barbers referred to had a daily take home pay that would be equal to $24 at this time. When I suppose they also got tips.

Nutritionists Have Doubts About Food Instinct

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Is there a food instinct? Many nutritionists are doubtful but some persons are persuaded by folklore that there is. They cite stories of man and animals who crave and seek out foods containing elements that are deficient in their body. The most common example is cattle looking for salt licks.

Many of our soldiers in North Africa developed an intense craving for anchovies and other briny food after going for weeks without salt. The pregnant woman who demands fruit is said to be lacking in vitamin C and little Willie eats plaster from the wall when he needs calcium. Even Willie's dog is excused for eating grass because Fido's diet is short of something.

But are these assumptions true? The pregnant woman may demand peaches out of season, even though oranges have more vitamin C. In addition, it is strange that those who believe in the food instinct usually are silent when they hear that Willie has switched from plaster to toothpaste or shoe polish. In the circumstances, his body should lack soap, turpentine, or wax.

A typical experiment along this line was conducted on animals whose adrenal glands were removed. These beasts needed salt to remain alive and when offered a choice between water and a salt solution, chose salt and lived much longer.

This may prove the case for the food instinct, provided the experiment stopped in this stage. When these animals were offered a choice between a sugar and a salt solution, they took the sugar and died.

On the other hand, it is difficult to explain the results of the following experiments conducted more than a decade ago on a group of infants and young children. The youngsters were offered a variety of foods and were allowed to take what they wanted. The majority selected items that were nutritionally sound and ended the experiment eating well balanced meals.

Man shows nutritional wisdom in his choice of food wherever he lives. In all probability this is not instinctive but due to learning. His food preferences also depend upon numerous physical, economic, and social factors including where he lives, the season of the year, his pocketbook, religious and social customs, heredity, education, and advertising.

PRICKLY HEAT

Mrs. E. writes: I have a prickly heat problem with my youngster. My husband thinks if we had air conditioning that the little fellow's skin would be better off. What do you think?

REPLY

Spending many hours a day in air conditioned quarters seems to clear plugging of the sweat gland openings. Talcum powder and calamine lotion also help.

HOISTING AID

N. D. writes: Is there any device to help lift a helpless, overweight woman off the bed a few inches so that her ordinary needs can be attended to?

REPLY
Special frames are available for this purpose which are obtainable in surgical supply stores. A simple device consists of building a wooden support several feet above the bed to which a bar is fastened. The invalid grasps the bar and pulls herself up.

AWKWARD FINGERS

M. Y. writes: What causes a person to drop things when he wants to set them down? The joints on the fingers are enlarged.

REPLY

Enlargement of the joints suggests arthritis and the insecure grip may be due to pain or weakness.

JUTTING BONE

C. M. writes: What is meant by a bone spur?

REPLY

An overgrowth of bone that projects like a spur. These lesions are common in certain types of arthritis and now and then follow injury. Spurs are painful when they press upon the surrounding tissues.

CHILLY TREATMENT

G. N. writes: I have heard that mental and alcoholic patients are wrapped in cold wet sheets day after day for weeks. What does such treatment accomplish?

REPLY

Nothing. Furthermore this treatment is not given.

NO-SEE-UM BUT FEEL-UM

Mrs. W. writes: I've been hearing a lot up here in the country about no-see-ums. Do you have any information on these insects?

REPLY

They are tiny flies that pass readily through an 18 mesh screen and mosquito netting. They are sometimes called gnats or punkies and the little rascals bite exposed extremities, head, and neck. The ensuing lesion and irritation last hours or days.

For the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

whether Bishop, while an Armed Services Committee member, passed any inside tips to Palmer and Vellanti. . . .

Phony Forms Stopped

Murray Chotiner's "skip tracing" outfit has grudgingly agreed to stop mailing out phony forms to help bill collectors nail unsuspecting debtors. The S. Floersheim Sales Company, which hired Chotiner to keep out of trouble with Washington, used semi-official forms to trick debtors into disclosing private information about themselves. . . . The victims thought they were answering an official government inquiry, instead of furnishing information to bill collectors.

Profit On Pain

Inside story can now be told how Licio Lagos, publisher of Life's magazine Latin-American edition, attempted to corner the production of the pain-relieving chemical "diogenin" and jack up prices to arthritis and cancer sufferers. This wonder chemical, produced from Mexican barbasco root, is used to manufacture hydrocortisone and similar hormones that have relieved millions of arthritis and cancer victims.

Lagos helped form the Mexican firm, Syntex S.A., which used its influence with the Mexican government to gain control of diogenin production. Competitors usually found they couldn't get a government permit to gather the essential barbasco root.

The Mexican government has now promised, however, to loosen restrictions on gathering barbasco root. This should bring new firms into competition with Syntex and force down the price of hypercortisone and other miracle drugs within reach of many who today can't afford them.

Competitors Squeezed

Meanwhile, trust-busting Sen. Joe O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) has dug into Lagos' amazing manipulations to corner the diogenin market. What interested O'Mahoney in the case was that Lagos wanted a U. S. license in 1952 to use war-seized German patents to produce finished hormones in Puerto Rico.

In his application, Lagos gave an affidavit to the American government that his firm had made no attempt to persuade Mexico to embargo the export of barbasco root. Once the firm got the U. S. license, however, it promptly used the Mexican government to freeze out competitors.

For example, Dr. Percy Julian, famed Negro scientist and founder of Chicago's Julian Laboratories, built a diogenin processing plant in Mexico. The Syntex firm notified him arbitrarily that he must sell his Mexican output only to customers okayed by Syntex.

When Julian refused, his plant mysteriously never got into production. The Mexican government simply denied him a permit to gather barbasco root.

The American Schering Corporation also built a pilot plant in Mexico, but, like Julian, never got a permit to gather root.

Another competitor, Productos Estroides, S. A., succeeded in getting a little barbasco root and selling diogenin to American drug firms cheaper than Syntex. The powerful Syntex firm promptly got hold of Estroides' founder, Dr. Irving Sollins, and asked him to "allocate customers and hold the price up."

Inside Contacts

When Sollins refused, Lagos wrote the Mexican government urging a protective tariff he levied on the export of intermediate diogenin. Lagos not only publishes the potent Latin-American edition of Life, but happens to be a personal friend of the Mexican economy minister. Last May, the Mexican government quickly clamped on the requested tariff.

Syntex then began refining diogenin to a stage that would exempt it from the tariff, assuming that Sollins' little firm lacked the resources to do the same. But Sollins fooled everyone by duplicating Syntex' feat and also beating the protective tariff. Undaunted, Syntex began pressuring for further tightening of the export tariff. This time, however, the Mexican government refused.

Arthritis and cancer sufferers are now waiting to see whether Mexico will keep its promise to ease restrictions on gathering barbasco root.

The Candidate

By Brother Barnabas

From now till judgment day November 6, patriotic fellow Americans will be mulling over campaign issues trying to decide what and whom to vote for in the forthcoming election.

Some have already decided, others are waiting to be told. "Ma, am I a Democrat or a Republican?" We're watching a game of chess between electioneers on both sides in which one shaky move may lose the game.

That happened in 1884 when a group of boosters cost James G. Blaine the presidency by their reference to the opposition as the party of "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion."

Political office is a maiden, uncertain, coy, and hard to please, and the favored candidate will be the most spifflicated speechifier and can offer the biggest dowry. "Ask me never so much dowry and gift, and I will give . . . but give me the damsel to wife" (Genesis 34:12).

For The Women If . . .

When he comes wooing in every town, hamlet and countryside as he will in reaching the grassroots he will meet farmers, laborers, housewives, county chairmen, mayors and councilmen, and he feted by the Flamdoodies in their palatial country home.

Next day he will brunch with a group of dirt farmers at the settlement swapping yarns about the soil bank—and promising to bring the price of hogs up and taxes down. He is for the women if he can find out what they want.

When woman's suffrage was an issue 89 brave men marched in the parade. When another parade was held in celebration all 520 of the original 89 appeared in the procession.

Out to win, the candidate must allow no grass to grow under his feet. Personal contact, camera-derie, weigh more than tons of wastebasket hoopla from New York. A handshake may mean a vote.

If he knows which side his bread is buttered on he will make himself solid with Aunt Samantha who will invite him to her home for dinner. There he will comment on her beautiful well-mannered children, how they look like their mother and favor about the eyes.

Meanwhile gorging on baked duck fricaseed with giblets of filet mignon lashed with stuffed olives, celery tips and pate de foie gras.

In the field he will talk with Farmer John and his neighbors in down-to-earth lingo about crop rotation, dairy farming, marketing, government spending, and wondering where the money goes.

A Fine Art

He must have his wits about him, even though he may have some nitwits in his entourage. He must not commit himself too far. He must know the fine art of evasion and stalling.

There is the story of a Yankee farmer who promised his vote to the Democratic candidate for Congress and 10 minutes later promised it to the Republican nominee. To his wife's rebuke he replied calmly: "Did you notice how pleased each of the candidates was?"

"Yes."

"Well, I pleased them both, and on election day I'll please myself, and then we shall all be pleased together."

Every married man who is a candidate for office has his wife and his electors to please. An unmarried man is a part time officer, the rest of the time he will be sitting up and taking notice.

"What weeds are the easiest weeds to kill?" asked the city chap of the farmer. "Widow's weeds," replied the farmer, "you have only to say 'Wilt thou' and they wilt."

The aspirant to office who knows the needs of labor, farmer or other groups has the edge if he can speak their language.

If he goes to a pharmacy to inquire about farming, thinks a combine is a new-fangled hair-do, or if he says to an old farmer as they survey a field, "I'd be surprised if you made a dollar out of the oats in that field," the said farmer would say laughingly to himself "that city guy doesn't know oats from barley."

Wouldn't Cheat

If, on the other hand, he can tell a story that will tickle the risibles of the skeptical son of the soil he may gain his vote. Especially about potatoes. On hot nights you could put your ear down and you could hear the young potatoes quarrelin', an' the old ones a-grumblin' because they didn't lay along and stop crowdin'. Why, one day our squash vines chased a drove of hogs better'n half a mile, and they ran and squealed as if the old boy was after them. One little pig stubbed his toe and fell down and never was heard of afterwards."

There was a gentleman farmer who was unable to pay the mortgage on his country home and was about to lose it because of a succession of poor crops.

Being a staunch churchman he would not cheat. To meet the situation he dug a hole in the road in front of his house and when the cars would fall in he would for a fee pull them out.

What Scripture do you have to justify such a device as that? Said he: "I was a stranger and you took me in." He afterward ran for Congress and they put him in, says

Bedford High School's Bisons scored in every period last night and crushed LaSalle High School's Explorers in the opening game of the local football season before 3,000 spectators at the stadium by the score of 35-7.

Dick Corle, left halfback of Coach Harold Wilkinson's eleven, scored three touchdowns while Bob Whitehead and Wilson Martz accounted for one six-pointer each. Ump Trout place-kicked three extra points and Bedford's two other points came on a safety.

Parsons Run, 75 Yards
LaSalle averted a shutout in the final period when Van Parsons took Bedford's kickoff on his 25, and aided by key blocks by Charles Innes and Bob Fair, raced 75 yards for a score. Nolan's kick for the extra point was good.

Bedford crashed the scoring column for the first time during the opening quarter when a punt by Edward "Mickey" Bush was blocked and recovered in the end zone by Bussard.

LaSalle kicked off to Bedford and the Bisons drove from midfield for their first touchdown that smashed over from five years out and Trout converted to make the score 9-0.

Before intermission, Bedford marched to another score with Corle going over from the five. Trout kicked the extra point to give BHS a 16-0 lead.

Six minutes had elapsed in the third quarter when Bedford tallied again on a drive from its own 33. The Bisons reeled off four first downs and reached their objective when Corle plunged into the end zone from the two. Trout's try for point was blocked by Arnold McGreevy.

A fumble by Parsons paved the way for the fourth Bedford TD late in the third period. Bussard recovered on the LaSalle 38 and on the first play Bob Whitehead raced 38 yards to paydirt. Trout's kick for the point was wide.

Martz Sprints 62 Yards

Parsons scored LaSalle's lone touchdown with 1:05 to play in the final quarter. Wilson Martz then returned LaSalle's kickoff 62 yards for the final six-pointer of the game. Whitehead's pass to Dick Fisher for the extra point was good.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 7 (AP)—Carl Furillo's two-out, two-run homer in the 11th inning gave Brooklyn a 3-1 second game victory tonight over New York and a split in a two-night doubleheader that lifted the Dodgers into a second place tie with Cincinnati in the National League pennant race.

The Giants, who had just six hits off Don Newcombe as he won his 23rd of the season, smacked 13 hits, including two home runs by Willie Mays, in winning the opener 6-2.

BERKELEY SPRINGS, Sept. 7—Making its debut in the Potomac Valley Conference, Berkeley Springs High School defeated Circleville High School of Pendleton County here today by the score of 34-7.

Coach Jerry Calhoun's Indians rolled up 21 points in the first period and added touchdowns in the second and third quarters. Circleville averted a shutout in the final stanza when a 25-yard pass engineered by Barkley and Teter produced a touchdown and the same combination accounted for the extra point.

A 15-yard run by Gayle Braithwaite gave Berkeley its initial score. Then Dennis McCumbee intercepted a pass and sprinted 95 yards to paydirt. Herb Rankin picked up a blocked punt and galloped 35 yards for the third TD of the first period.

Rice scored from the two on a quarterback sneak in the third period and McCumbee went over from the six in the third quarter. Gale Smith kicked four extra points and missed his fifth try.

Today's game marked the first meeting of these schools in football. Lineups:

Outdoor Club Cops Playoff Title In RCL

Top Moose, 11-9, Collects 20 Hits

The Cumberland Outdoor Club sewed up the playoff title in the Rocking Chair Softball League by defeating the Loyal Order of Moose by the score of 11-9 in the fourth game of their playoff series yesterday at Stitzer Field.

The triumph enabled the Outdoor Club to annex both the pennant and the playoffs for the second time in three years. They last scored a "double" in 1954.

"Bub" Porter sparked the ODC's 20-hit assault by rapping two doubles and two singles. Ted Durbin, "Pete" Elliott, Vern Penner, Manager Cecil Grimes, Sam Brady, Van Johnson and Golden Evans collected two hits each. Brady and Durbin smacked two-baggers. Evans was the fielding star, making several nice plays at first base.

Dickel and Young with three hits each paced the Moose team's 17-hit attack. Thompson and Spier had two safeties each.

The victory went to Jim Morrison, who relieved Harry Larriker in the second inning. Joe Niland, Moose starter, was charged with the loss. Bill Thompson and Bob Wade finished on the mound for the Moose.

In the playoffs the Outdoor Club defeated the VFW, 7-5 and 9-1 and won the second, third and fourth games of their series with the Moose, 7-4, 3-1 and 11-9, after losing the opener 3-1. In capturing the regular season championship the ODC won 17 and lost 7. Score:

MOOREFIELD, Sept. 7—Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets and Greenbank High School battled to a scoreless tie in their opening game of the football season here today.

Coach Johnny Paugh's eleven outplayed the home team throughout but lacked the necessary punch to put over a score. The Hardy countians outtrushed Greenbank in the first period, 55 to 16 yards and 47 to 18 yards in the second quarter, and a fumble on the 21 halted their touchdown march in the third stanza.

Twice in the final period the Jackets muffed opportunities to score. After driving to the Greenbank eight, a penalty set them back five yards and they lost the down on downs. Late in the last quarter Moorefield advanced to the two but again a 5-yard penalty interrupted the march and shortly thereafter the Jackets were held for downs.

The biggest advance made by Greenbank into Moorefield territory came in the third period when the home team reached the 30-yard mark.

Walbert Peters and Donnie Schell stood out on the line for MHS and they recovered three Greenbank fumbles. Quarterback Charles Sheets and Fullback John Bosley were Greenbank's standouts. Lineups:

Chicago Cubs' Sam Jones Out Milwaukee, 5-0

Braves Drop 4th Straight, Buhl Beaten

Jones Hurls 7-Hit Game As Strikeout Total Soars To 148

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sam Jones and the cellar-dwelling Chicago Cubs momentarily halted Milwaukee's pennant drive today by handing the league-leading Braves their fourth straight loss, 5-0.

Jones, exhibiting excellent control, limited the stumbling Braves to seven hits. The big right-hander walked four and struck out seven to boost his league-leading strikeout total to 148.

The Cubs backed Jones, who picked up his eighth triumph against 13 losses, with a 10-hit attack against starter Bob Buhl and two successors.

Buhl, who suffered his 7th loss against 16 victories, was knocked out of the box in the sixth inning when the Cubs scored four runs on four hits, including doubles by Ernie Banks, Walt Moryn and Pete Whisenand.

Banks drove in Chicago's first run in the opening inning with a single to center after Don Hoak and doubled off Billy Bruton's glove in short center.

Buhl held the Cubs in check until the sixth. Hoak opened the big frame by flying out, but Baker shot a single to center and scored when Banks doubled down the left field line. Moryn dropped a wind-blown double down the left field line, Banks holding third. Jim King was walked intentionally to load the bases. Buhl unloaded a wild pitch, Banks scoring and the other runners advancing.

Whisenand then doubled off the left field wall, scoring Moryn and King. Taylor Phillips relieved Buhl and put an end to the rally. Milwaukee never could get started against Jones and left 11 men stranded.

It was Milwaukee's seventh shutout of the season and the loss matched their longest losing streak of the year.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7 (INS)—Finally, after months of trying, Jayne Mansfield heads for Hollywood and 20th Century-Fox. The studio had to buy "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," Jayne's hit play on Broadway, to get her release.

Very excited, Jayne telephoned me from New York to tell me her big news. She is a happy girl to be coming back to motion pictures. But Buddy Adler is so glad to get her that her first assignment is "Do RE MI" with Frank Tashlan directing her and Tom Ewell as co-star.

There's no doubt in my mind but that Jayne will be given the plush treatment as Marilyn Monroe's successor. The studio's been trying to find another Marilyn ever since little Monroe kicked over the traces and moved out.

An offer has gone to Jennifer Jones, who is still in Europe, to replace Judy Garland in "Three Faces of Eve." Nunnally Johnson tells me Jennifer likes the story which is about a woman who is three distinct characters. In one, she is drab and melancholy; in another she is a real little clown, and in another a normal character.

Eve was treated by psychiatrists, Dr. Corbett Thigpen and Dr. Hervey Chekley, who wrote "Three Faces of Eve," a book which comes out soon.

The story of Eve, Nunnally said, had first appeared in the "American Weekly" in 1953. Then last March there was another article about her miraculous cure.

The maddest dash that anyone ever made was made by June Allyson in order to get home from New York to her ailing six-year-old son, Ricky Powell.

June arrived on the Liberty Thursday morning, had luncheon at "21" and planned to take the train home—she's scared to death to fly. But when she learned her son was sick, her 14 pieces of luggage went out to the airport in one car and she followed in another, arriving just in time to catch the plane for home. She's been in Europe since June making "Interlude" for U-I.

One of Hollywood's best dressed women, Martha Ellis, will go to New York Sept. 15 to model for Addie Masters for two weeks.

She told me that she has just received a letter from Pierre Lemure, who has sold his latest novel, "Beyond Desire," to Corona Films. It will be filmed in Hamburg and Munich.

Martha will remain in New York an extra week to wait for Lemure, who is working on another book.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

You can expect the Patti Page-Charles O'Curran marriage—very soon. Patti arrived in Hollywood yesterday.

Another marriage sure to happen is that of Diana Lynn and Mortimer Hall. He just bought Lillie Messinger's home.

Press Agent Herb Stern, who gives all the visiting Paris movie firemen a welcome, cables that Audrey Hepburn is ecstatic because interiors of "The Vintage," starring Mel Ferrer, will be made in Paris instead of Hollywood.

An admirer of Frank Sinatra named Nancy Berke already has reservations for his opening at The Sands.

From Las Vegas, Carol Channing wires, "You are the first to whom I've written my new name 'Mrs. Charles Lowe'."

Scouts To Hold Roundup Sunday

A picnic and roundup for Scouts, Cubbers and their families of Nemoacolin Trail District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Sunday from 1:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Camp Potomac.

Nemoacolin Trail District is comprised of Scout troops and Cub packs of the Cumberland and Frostburg areas.

Scouts and Cubbers are those adults, both men and women, who serve as leaders for the boys.

A complete program of demonstrations, recreation, contests such as target shooting, and discussions, will take up the afternoon.

There will be a picnic supper at 5:30 p.m. Miles G. Thompson, Sr., Nemoacolin Trail District commissioner, is in charge of the event.

Area Man Treated

Melford Bazzel, 24, of Springfield, W. Va., was treated Thursday at Memorial Hospital for a deep laceration of the scalp sustained when the car he was driving overturned when it failed to negotiate a curve on West Virginia Route 28, six miles south of Ridgeley.

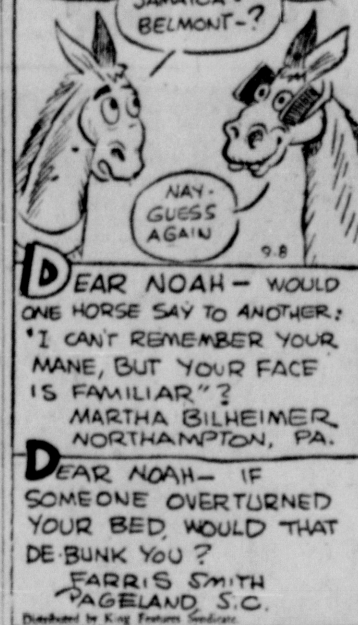

len, an Actor's Studio student, are at the hand-holding stage.

If anyone has a foreign picture he likes, Guy Madison will accept pronto. He wants to take his wife, Sheila, to her native Ireland. Eileen Barton long-distanced from New York that she'll open at the Mocombo September 14.

Lucille Ball dashed up to Pebble Beach to meet Desi Arnaz and some C.B.S. executives. That's all today. See you Monday.

Former City Employees Seeking Vacation Pay

Five individual suits were docketed in Circuit Court yesterday by former members of the Cumberland Police and Fire Departments for vacation pay which they say is due them from the city.

The Mayor and City Council is named defendant in the five cases. Each of the men, two firemen and three policemen, states he has 15 days vacation pay coming and seeks $148.20.

The five men recently took positions at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's new plant here on the protection force. Donald W. Mason is their attorney.

The men are Harold Hipsley, 713 St. Mary's Avenue; and Conley C. Hammond, 240 Utah Avenue, both former firemen; Frank M. Buser Jr., 520 Eastern Avenue; Walter P. Dennison, Silbert Place, and E. P. Law, 802 Piedmont Avenue, former policemen.

Mason said that on July 31 he had made a request to the Mayor and Council on behalf of the men and that no action has been taken, so the legal action was instituted.

Boys Form Club To Practice Safe Driving

A club has been organized in South Cumberland by a group of teenage boys who plan to emphasize safe driving practices among the youthful drivers in that section of town.

Spearheaded by Ferman Thomas Saville Jr., 18, of 1013 Virginia Avenue, and William Edward Clark, 19, of 1000 Virginia Avenue, the organization was formed several days ago, and already claims about a dozen members.

The club will hold an organizational meeting Sunday at 2 p. m. on a lot in the rear of Saville's home, at which time the rules of the unit will be outlined to youths interested in joining.

Clark has been acting as temporary treasurer of the club and already has collected several "fines." Members will be assessed for each infraction of proper driving procedure, the amount varying from 25 cents to $5 — the latter amount to be assessed only for a major, serious offense.

Plans call for the money collected in fines to be used for awards every two months or so, depending on the amount in the treasury, the club organizers said. The awards will be either cash or the less-expensive parts for automobiles.

None of the members to date has an automobile of his own, all being part-time drivers of family cars.

Saville and Clark visited Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn to inform him of the objective of the club and he praised them for the idea, pointing out that such organizations should be formed in all sections of the town, particularly since the reopening of schools places large numbers of children on the streets and points out the need for safe driving.

Board Issues Proclamation

A proclamation was passed yesterday by the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners designating the week of September 9 to 15 as Civil Defense Week.

William G. Barger, director of Civil Defense for Allegheny County, requested the commissioners to pass the proclamation. He said the program will include the following themes: Sunday, "Preparedness in the Nation"; Monday, "Report to the Community"; Tuesday, "Preparedness of the Individual"; Wednesday, "Preparedness in the School"; Thursday, "Preparedness in the Home and Neighborhood"; Friday, "Preparedness at Work"; and Saturday, "Preparedness in the Community."

Barger also asked the commissioners to assist in obtaining volunteer workers for the Civil Defense program here. He said there is a need for additional personnel in the Ground Observer Corps, rescue, medical and warden services.

Barger said the CD organization is prepared to conduct training courses in these fields during the fall and winter months for those persons who volunteer.

Seven Divorces Granted In Court

Seven divorces have been granted in Allegheny County Circuit Court in the past several weeks.

Wilbert D. Bonner obtained a divorce from Catherine K. Bonner. Anna B. Taylor was granted a divorce from Roy O. Taylor Sr. and custody of their infant daughter. Thomas Lancaster was awarded a divorce from Doris Eileen Lancaster.

Cecil C. Clark was granted a divorce from Nelle C. Clark. Effie Evelyn Carr obtained a divorce from James Cornelius Carr and custody of their three minor children. Paul H. Clites was awarded a divorce from Delores J. Clites and she was granted custody of their two minor children. Samuel Rosenberg obtained a divorce from Norma H. Rosenberg.

Young Girl Released

Judith Ann Head, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Head, Hagerstown, who had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Vivian Greene, Bowling Green, was admitted Wednesday to Sacred Heart Hospital for X-rays and observation after she fell approximately ten feet from an open window. She was discharged Thursday.

George Firm Offers Low Bid On New School

$408,930 Price Given On Valley Road Job

The George Construction Company submitted an apparent low bid of $408,930 for the construction of the proposed new Northeast Elementary School which will be located along Valley Road between Cumberland and Bowman's Addition.

Two other sealed bids opened yesterday afternoon at the Board of Education office by Ralph R. Webster, county schools superintendent, revealed that the John I. Vandegrift Company submitted a base bid of $423,119 and the George F. Hazelwood Company, a base bid of $439,870.

The plans and specifications for the new school were drawn up by the Mt. Rainier architectural firm of Walton and Madden.

An alternate bid of $4,500 for seeding and mulching in lieu of sodding was submitted by George Construction while Vandegrift submitted a bid of $6,000 and Hazelwood $5,500.

An alternate bid of $26,000 on the omission of a sewage disposal system was submitted by George; $34,240 by Vandegrift and $29,460 by Hazelwood. The unit price per cubic yard of rock by George was $15; Vandegrift, $18 and Hazelwood, $13.50.

The various bids will be taken under consideration according to Webster, who said they would be presented to the Board of Education.

Among those present at the opening of the bids yesterday were Joseph T. Downey, supervisor of maintenance for county schools, and Dennis Madden of the architectural firm.

The proposed school, which will be two-stories high will have eight classrooms, an office, health room and cafeteria, which can be converted into an all-purpose room with the removal of tables and chairs.

Four Highway Projects Set In Mineral Co.

Several road improvement projects are planned in nearby Mineral County, including a resurfacing of a portion of U. S. Route 220, south of Keyser, starting at the Keyser filtration plant and continuing two miles southward.

This will take the improvement to the junction with U. S. Route 50, where resurfacing ended two years ago. Another such treatment is planned for Route 50 near the foot of Allegheny Front.

Mortimer W. Gamble, engineer in charge of District No. 5 for the West Virginia State Road Commission, announced the proposals yesterday.

He also noted that the Fountain Headville Road will be hard surfaced from State Route 46 near Fountain and continue to Headville. This project is expected to start on October 1.

The Limestone Road, from the intersection with Armstrong Street extended in Keyser, will be given a hard surface through to the Keyser reservoir. No definite date for this work has been scheduled but it will be started shortly, Gamble noted.

The engineer, yesterday, also noted three personnel changes in the personnel of the maintenance department in the district. William Nesbitt, Keyser, has been appointed prison labor superintendent and will have his headquarters in Buckhannon. Louis Clem, Keyser, will become sign foreman of District No. 5, taking over the position formerly held by Joseph V. Wright, who died recently. Clem had been Wright's assistant for some time.

Edward Dorsey has been transferred from the construction department to the maintenance department.

Reddy Kilowatt Issues Appeal To Candidates

A well known little caricature character, "Reddy Kilowatt" is making a very plaintive appeal to political candidates and others in this area to refrain from nailing or tacking political campaign cards and posters on telephone and power poles.

Cards, signed "Gratefully, Reddy Kilowatt" are being mailed to area candidates in Maryland and West Virginia, asking them to refrain from using the poles in this manner. "Reddy" explains that the cards are a hazard to linemen who are required to climb poles, and the tacks, staples and nails used cause injury to the hands of linemen. In climbing poles, linemen sometimes hit their spur-like climbers against the nails and tacks, and are in danger of falling. Reddy says the practice causes untold suffering and unnecessary injury.

What Reddy doesn't say is a fact that everyone except political candidates seems to know. If you ask a lineman, he will tell you he hardly ever votes for a candidate who drives nails and tacks in the poles he has to climb.

Court House To Close

The Allegany County Court House will be closed on Wednesday, September 12, in observance of Old Defender's Day.

Sports Car Fund Helps Burn Mortgage

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Department, with profits of over $2,500 from the recent Sports Car Hill Climb, has paid off the indebtedness against its fire hall and last night staged a mortgage burning ceremony. In the picture are some of the officers of the company and committeemen who helped promote the colorful Sports Car event. At the left is Cleland Helmick, chairman of gates and grounds; burning the mortgage is J. D. Marshall, treasurer; While Lawrence C. Smith, president of the fire company and chairman of concessions is receiving a check and full report from Dr.

Benedict Skitarelic, general chairman of the Sports Car event. In the foreground can be seen a trophy which the firemen presented Dr. Skitarelic for bringing the hill climb to Flintstone and serving successfully as chairman. The firemen, at their meeting last night, launched plans for a celebration for members of the company and members of the auxiliary to commemorate the mortgage burning and give recognition to all who helped with the hill climb and other activities of the organization. Absent last night was Brethred Hill, victory dinner chairman.

Garrett County Tour Set For Md. Engineers

SRC Officials Oppose Route 40 Bypass

Members of the County Engineers Association of Maryland, who are having a two-day session in Oakland, will take an inspection tour today and see the progress thus far in various roads projects in Garrett County.

The tour will be conducted by William W. DeWitt, county roads engineer. Last night, Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission spoke to the group during a dinner meeting in Oakland.

He pointed out the desirability of cooperation all along the line from state to county and municipal levels so that Maryland might be better able to meet the ever-mounting traffic demands.

Expressing his delight at being back in Western Maryland, the state roads chairman said too few tourists realize the scenic magnificence of this section or there would be thousands more visit here.

Must Work As Team

He is particularly pleased, he said, to know better the district and county engineers and public officials and to see the varied problems of the local areas in Western Maryland.

"If Maryland is to make the most of its 12-year roads building program and take full advantage of the Federal Interstate Highway program our state, county and municipal agencies must work as a team, reconciling sectional differences promptly. We must be prepared, too, to take full advantage of all federal funds available."

At this point Bonnell cited the U. S. 40 situation and its relation to the Interstate Highway System, and reiterated the determination of the present State Roads Commission to have the stretch through Allegany and Garrett counties included in the new federal roads program.

Program Justified

"It is right that all of U. S. 40 be included in the Interstate Highway System. It is justified by need, by historic background and because of its magnificent scenery. It is imperative that all groups support the inclusion of this segment in the Interstate System. But to succeed we must demonstrate decisively that we are wholeheartedly backing this project in every way possible."

SRC Chief Engineer Norman Pritchett, who made a number of inspections of projects underway in Allegany and Garrett counties during his visit here, outlined the new federal highway bill and told how it will affect the nation's roads system.

Much of his talk was on a question and answer basis with the county engineers' queries being answered. Pritchett said the monies which will go to the various counties under the new federal program will not amount to much to the individual counties. An increase in the amount of federal aid for secondary and urban road projects will total $25,000,000 for the entire nation.

Checks Area Project

Thursday afternoon Pritchett checked the Martin's mountain highway project and yesterday on his way to Oakland he looked over the Little Savage mountain road work, the highway work between Thayerville and Deep Creek Lake and also the proposed overhead crossing at Weber, south of Oakland.

The Weber project would eliminate the B&O Railroad crossing on U. S. Route 219 at that point. With him in his inspections is Frank V. Dreyer, chief location engineer for the SRC.

Today Pritchett, Bonnell and John J. McMullen, of the commission, will meet with members of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly and State Senator Charles M. See on various highway problems.

Other talks were heard yesterday afternoon by approximately (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Route 40 Group To Fight Bypass

Members of the U. S. Route 40 Association from both Maryland and Pennsylvania met here last night to support their campaign to get that segment of Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa., placed in the Federal Interstate Highway System.

Attending last night's session at the home of Edward Wolfe, president of the association, were a number of representatives from Uniontown and Fayette County, Pa., who are incensed at the bypass of this old and historic section of the cross country highway.

Carl Delaney, spokesman for the Pennsylvanians, said that his group has conferred this week with Senators and Congressmen and plans to go to Harrisburg this week to see what can be done to have this area of Route 40 placed in the Federal Interstate Highway System to be eligible for new federal aid.

Meanwhile, Marylanders in the Association reported that U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler plans to be in Cumberland Monday in his re-election campaign and they have made arrangements for a conference with him to get his support.

BRANTLEY D. GREESON

North Carolina Native To Teach Vocal Music

Will Fill Post At Allegany High

Brantley D. Greeson, a native of Greensboro, N. C., has accepted the position of instructor of vocal music at Allegany High School, according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County schools.

The new instructor succeeds Miss Josephine Kompanek, of 511 Pearre Avenue, who resigned. Upon graduation from Greensboro (N. C.) High School in 1944, Greeson was awarded a scholarship to the Julliard School of Music in New York City where he studied piano.

Later he entered Guilford College in Greensboro and after two years study went to Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J. where he received his Bachelor of Music degree in 1952.

He majored in piano and voice. In 1953 he returned to that college and following graduate work received his Master of Music degree.

Greeson served as minister of music at Centenary Methodist Church, Metuchen, N. J. from 1951 to 1954 and for the next two years was head of the Voice Department of Cumberland College, Williamsburg, Ky.

He is married and expects to take up his residence in Cumberland.

Readers May Learn More About Mars

Much attention and many telescopes were focused on the planet Mars around midnight yesterday when the heavenly body was only 35,163,000 miles from Earth, the closest it has been since 1924.

Residents of Cumberland and area who are desirous of obtaining more knowledge of the planet may do so by making a visit to the Cumberland Free Public Library. Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, announced yesterday that among the latest books is "The Exploration of Mars," by Willy Ley and Werner Von Braun, illustrated by Chesley Bonestell with 16 paintings in color and five in black and white.

The authors, basing their plans on astronomical realities and adhering to available engineering knowledge have outlined a master blue print for man's first trip to Mars.

This book, a serious study, includes a comprehensive account of past and present theories.

A more elementary but extremely interesting new book is "Exploring Mars" by Roy S. Gallant. Copies of this book are available at the Pennsylvania Avenue School and John Humbird School branches of the Cumberland Free Public Library as well as at the main library.

Additional titles dealing with Mars and other planets are: "Exploring Mars" by R. S. Richardson; "Planets—their Origin and Development" by H. C. Urey; "Sun, Moon and Planets" by Roy K. Marshall.

Glass Plant Production Slated Today

Railroads Prepare To Ship Product

Rough glass is expected to roll today from the melting tank of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 here.

But Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager, said last night there was still a question as to whether the operation can be started on that schedule, since there was still a lot of work to do before the go-ahead can be given.

Here to assist in the production start are a number of top officials of the firm, including R. V. Reisinger, vice president in charge of manufacturing operations, and M. E. Carlisle, general manager in charge of instruction and purchasing.

Will Be Shipped

Also on hand will be William H. Heineman, project engineer for the $34,000,000 plant.

Actual production is several days away, since officials explained that it takes about two days of glass production for the quality to become clear enough for sale. Fires in the furnace were lighted in July, and the temperature has been increased gradually to the top melting point—about 2,850 degrees.

The glass will be gradually cooled as it is poured and will be at about 2,100 degrees as it is rolled into sheets of rough glass.

The rough glass will be shipped to other PPG plants for grinding and polishing, allowing the firm to make needed repairs on rough glass facilities.

Cars To Be Ready

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will put its first equipment on the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company siding today. Between 10 and 12 cars will be sent there.

The first shipment of rough glass from the North Branch plant is expected to be shipped via the B&O to Crystal City, Mo., where PPG has another operation. This is likely to take place the first of next week.

The Western Maryland Railway dispatched box cars for glass shipments to its siding at the plant earlier this week.

Local Pastor Backs Church Union Program

Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, represented the local synod of Evangelical and Reformed churches in the denomination's history-making call for union with the Congregational Christian churches.

The General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, meeting at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., this week, voted unanimously an enabling resolution setting June 25 to 27, 1957, as the dates when the two denominations will meet together in a uniting Synod to form the new United Church of Christ. This uniting meeting is scheduled for Cleveland, Ohio.

Union of these two divergent Christian church families was voted overwhelmingly (1,310 to 179) by the Congregational Christians at Omaha last June.

This is the first time in this country that two church groups so unlike in cultural, historical and governmental background have been brought together in one "family." The Congregationalists trace their origin to the Pilgrims while the Evangelical and Reformed Church is of German, Swiss and French antecedents.

Discussing the unity meeting, Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, said it is expected the major steps taken at Cleveland will be the appointment of three commissions, one to work on a constitution for the new church, another to draw up a statement of faith and the third to devise an acceptable financial structure.

City Taxicabs Will Return To Their Old Stand

Taxicabs will be back at their old North Liberty Street stand Monday, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

For some time, the taxicab stand has been located on the west side of South Liberty Street.

He said Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, chief of the Traffic Bureau, will supervise the move and will arrange to provide four parking spaces for taxicabs.

Commissioner Keegan said the move is being made to relieve a traffic bottleneck, since more and more cars are using South Liberty Street.
